

Tokenpods Attorney Review Brief

Tokenpods is trust infrastructure for private market sponsors using Regulation D workflows. This brief is designed for securities counsel evaluating platform architecture.

Review Scope

- Transfer agent registration analysis under Exchange Act Section 17A(c)(1).
- Reasonable steps standard under Rule 506(c)(2)(ii).
- Investor document privacy architecture and CCPA/GDPR deletion rights.
- Audit trail design and SEC Rule 17a-4 production readiness.

Architecture Summary

Tokenpods separates sensitive investor source documents from the durable compliance record. Documents are stored in an encrypted, access-controlled vault. The platform records a time-stamped digital fingerprint of each verification decision so the review can be proven without preserving unnecessary copies of source documents.

Important Notice

Tokenpods is a technology platform, not a broker-dealer, investment adviser, registered transfer agent, or law firm. This brief is not legal advice. Counsel should perform independent review for each issuer, offering structure, and jurisdiction.
